Involvement

The key to Wa-Hi's success this year came from people coming together for a common goal. And there was success. Not only in sports,but also in anything people dared to attempt.It all gave us that classic feeling.

Spirit

With involvement came spirit. Who could help but get caught up in the winning feeling that was seen everywhere? It was a unique part of the classic Wa-Hi.

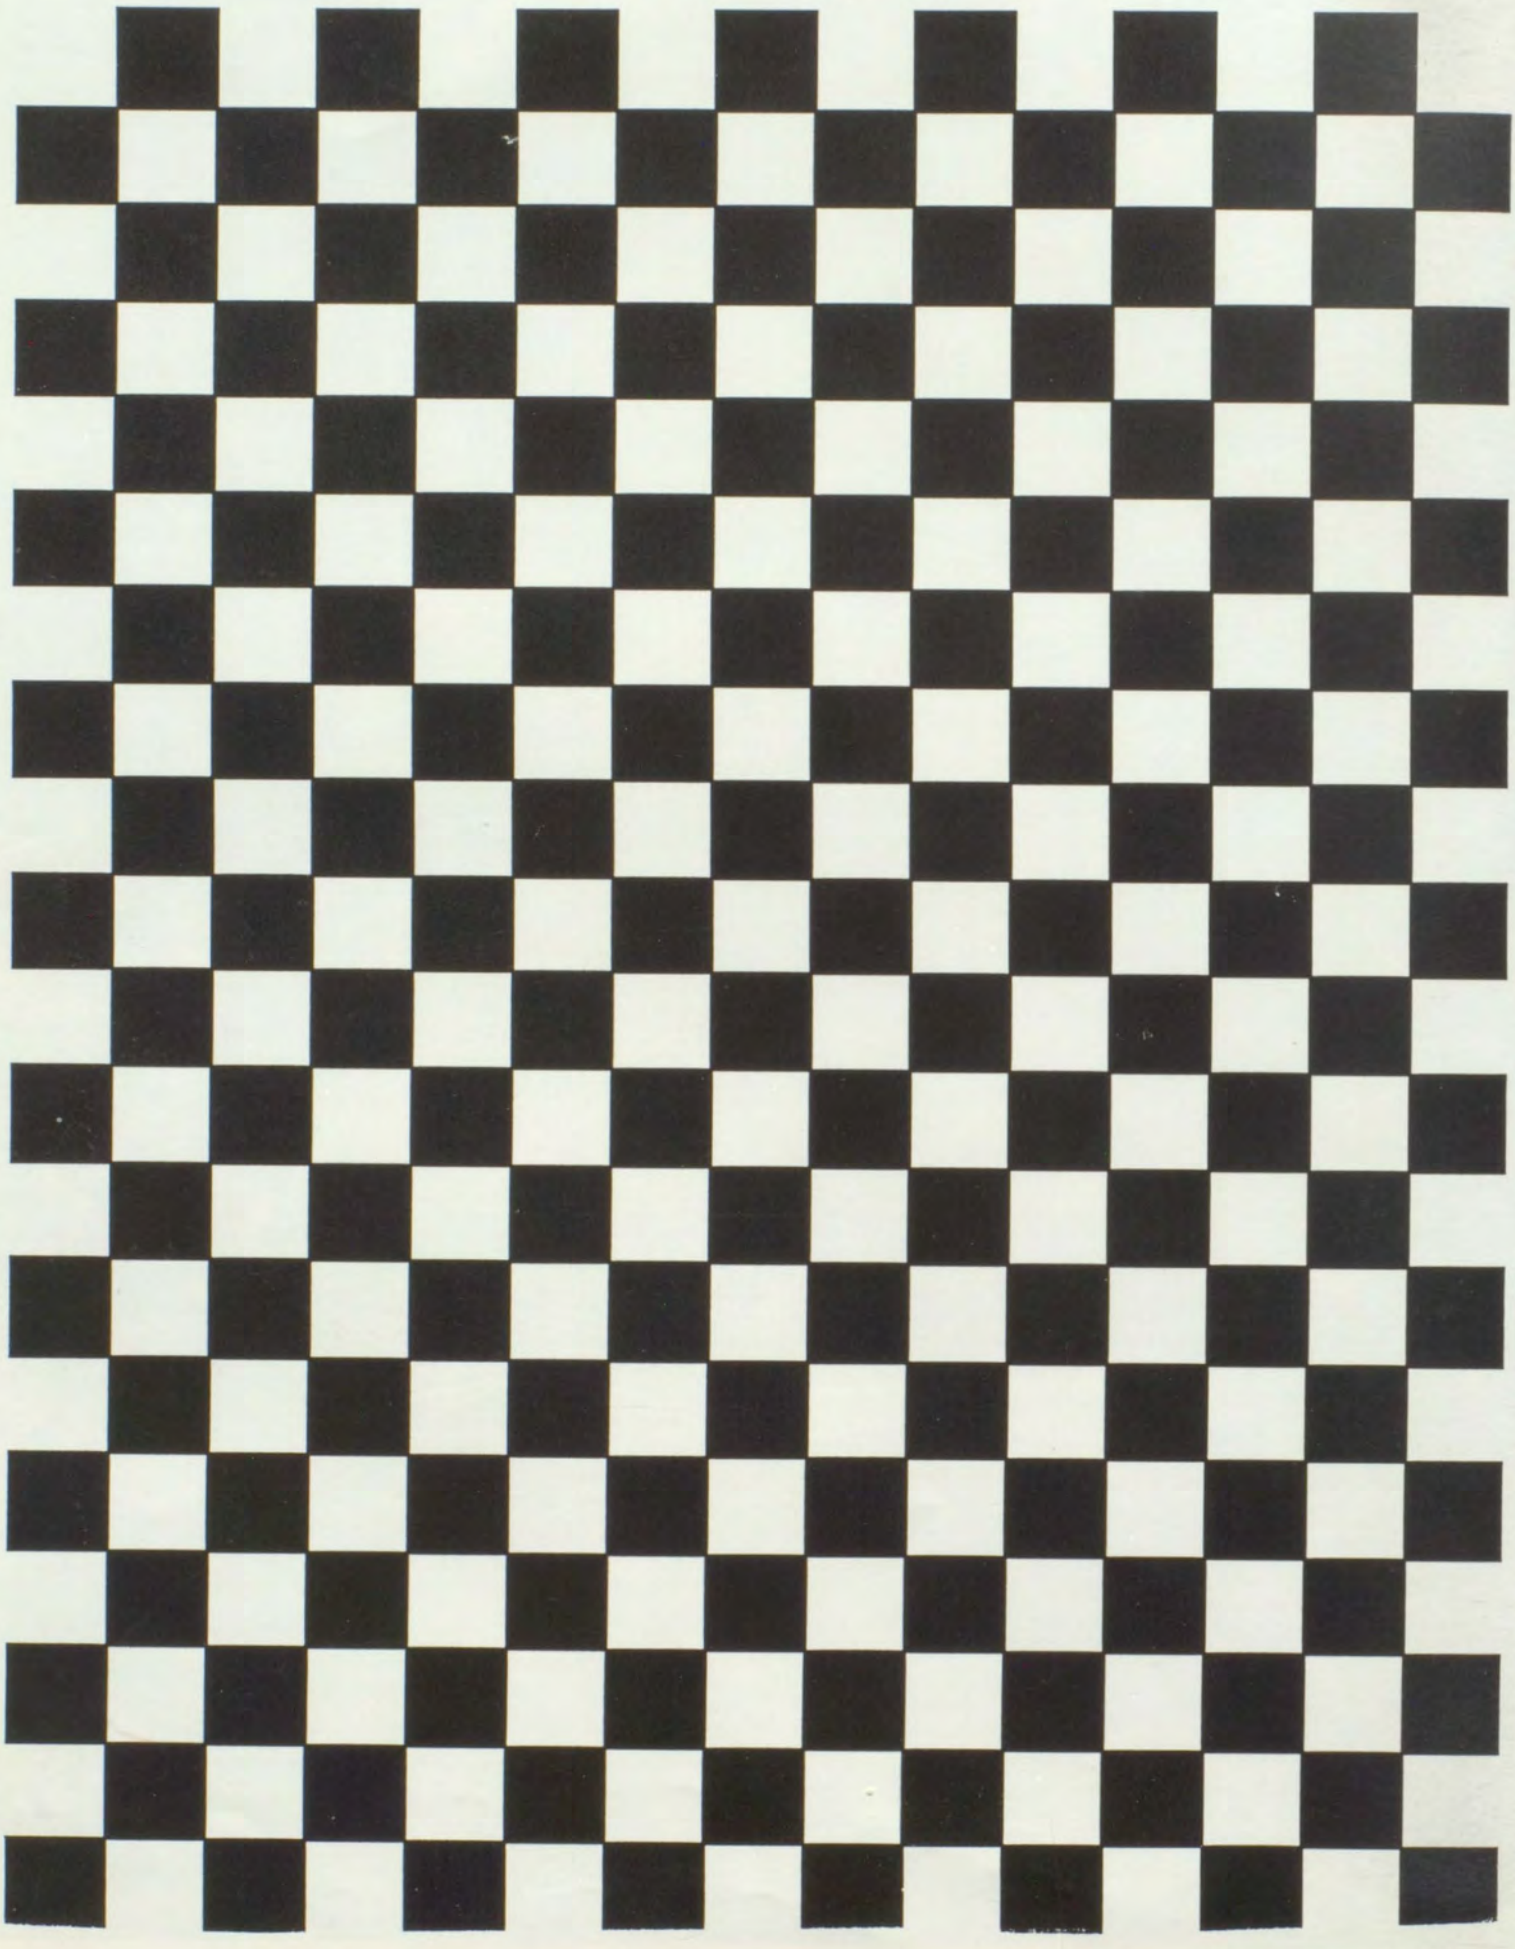

Individuals

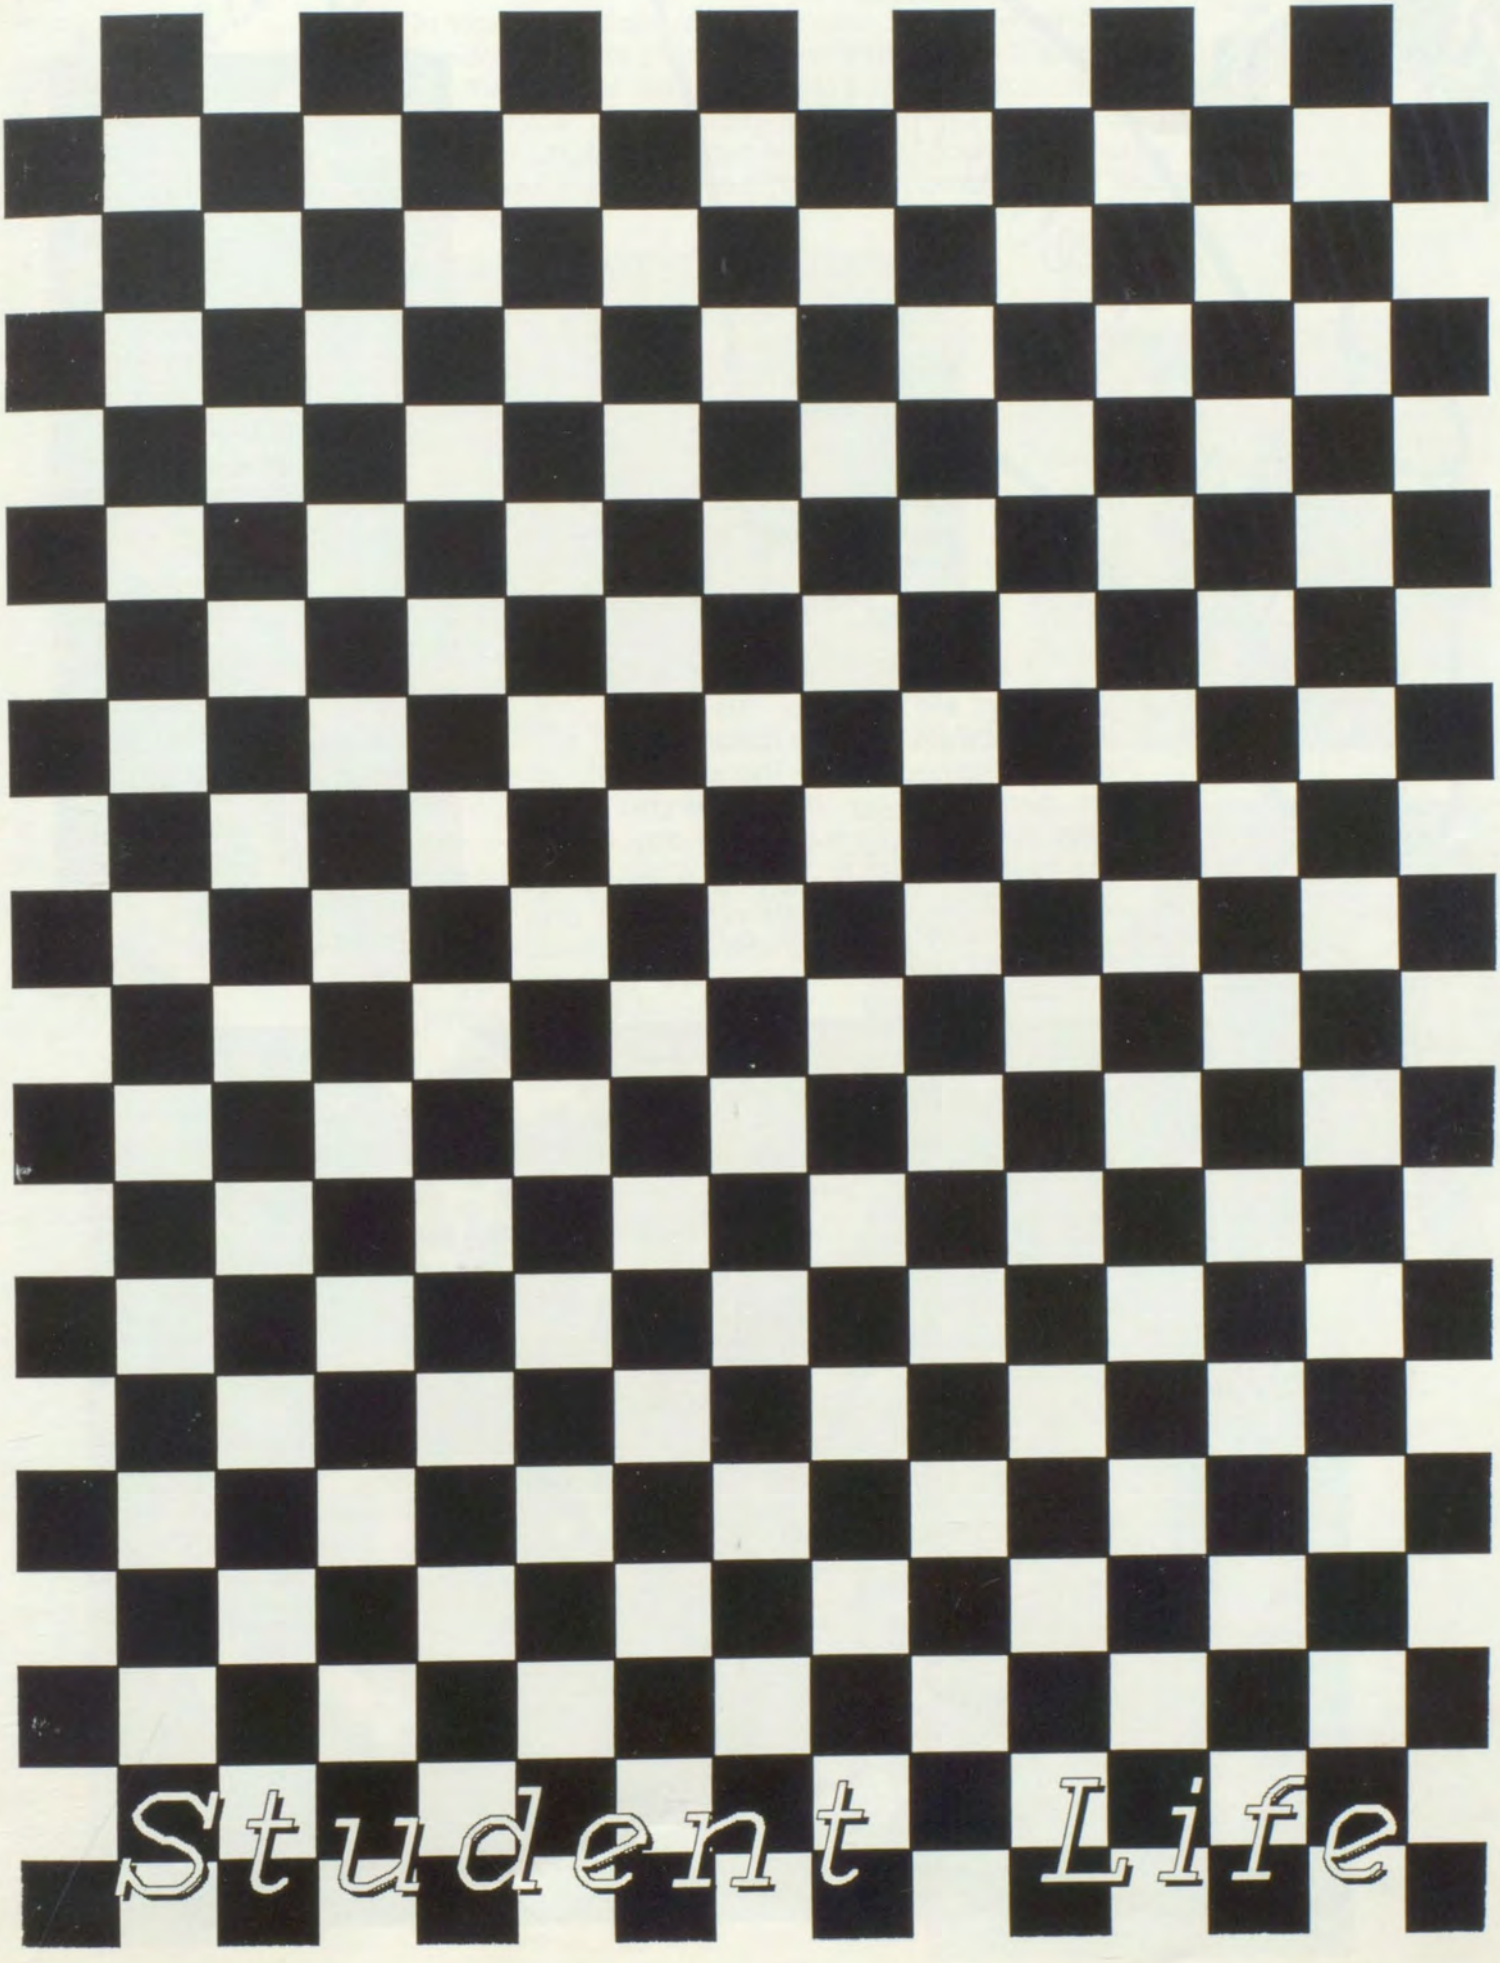

It wasn't just the spirit that made Wa-Hi so unique; It was the collection of individual personalities meshing together to form the classic Blue Devil Student Body.

Student Life

A Royal Celebration

As we enter the Royal Celebration we discover the spirit, the friendships, and the meaning of the word Homecoming. The spirited Seniors ruled proving their strength throughout the week. Through each day, we noticed the true display of Walla Walla High School's devilish pride. The Forever Young theme sparkles inside our mind throughout these pages.

Monday

On Monday, students were encouraged to wear Class Colors. Seniors wore black, Juniors white, and Sophomores red. All of the classes had great participation, but the Seniors were victorious. The annual Rally-sponsored Homecoming Fashion Show took place at lunch. The show, hosted by Shannon Kinman and Matt O'Laughlin, displayed the "in" styles for homecoming, from 'tails to casual slacks and sweaters.

Tuesday

Tuesday was Toga Day at Wa-Hi, and Blue Devils displayed their spirit in varying Toga materials from plain white to Garfield cats.

At lunch, the Greek theme continued with the Grape Toss. Although the classes gave it their best shot, the Seniors were unbeatable.

Wednesday

On Wednesday, Blue Devils dug through their parents' and grandparents' closets, and came to school in Clashing Polyester. At lunch, members of each class competed in that challenging game, Musical Chairs. The Seniors once again edged out the other classes. In the evening, there was the annual Powder-Puff Football Game. The Senior Rat Pack dominated the Junior team 34-0.

Friday

The American tourist and Hawaiian hula dancers fled to school fashioning their green grass skirts and bright yellow leis. The juniors prevailed over all in the lunch time activities. During lunch the participants chugged a liter of Classic Coca Cola, gulped down a cream pie, relayed around the commons and while munching on a cracker, whistled.

The serpentine stretching from Howard St. to Wa-Hi was followed by the volleyball game and the flic-your-bic bonfire and frolic.

Thursday

Coloring the grassland with our Blue and White spirit, the devilish students invaded the campus. After divulging their lunches everyone headed to the gym for the Grand Assembly. Cheers led the participants into a roar. The crowd filled with suspense and anxiety, soon discovered the crowned King and Queen for 1988-1989 school year. The royalty consisted of: David Bingham king; and Angie Zagelow queen; Joe Gonzales and Heidi Rolfe; Brandon Franklin and Jennifer Cottingham; Ricky Wilson and Kara Yunck; Matt O'Laughlin and Kathy Hickey for royalty.

The Blue Devils displayed their might against Davis. Scoring a (19-11) win over the sunken Pirates. The halftime show found the classy muppet babies and Brady Bunch band members dancing their way into the hearts of the spirited crowd.

Friday

Saturday

Wa-Hi's classy style was vividly displayed in every part of the Homecoming dance. The activities, which give the festival humor and character, consisted of the Limbo dance and videos that entertained all who joined in. The warm romantic evening put rays of sunshine in everyone that night. As the evening came to an end, the Homecoming week closed its doors leaving us "Forever Young."

Foreign Exchange Students

Back home Ana Maria Urunuela likes to go out with friends to discos and take part in new experiences. She also enjoys performing her traditional dance, Sevillanas Dance, of her native country. She attended Wa-Hi as a junior and stayed with Earl and Hazel Fleck.

Tarja Perttola's favorite things to do are reading, drawing, putting model cars of the 50's, swimming and traveling. Here at Wa-Hi, she liked the frolics and was a junior. She stayed with Jennifer Heimbigner.

Alejandra Lopez enjoys participating in volleyball, waterskiing, collecting postcards of 50's cars, dancing classic ballet and watching tennis. She attended Wa-Hi as a junior and stayed with Heidi and Wyatt Rolfe

Dancing jazz and ballet, singing rock, going to parties and shopping are things Gloria Baasch likes to do. She was junior at Wa-Hi and stayed with Bud and Cozy Lueck.

Miguel Saenz likes going out with friends to discos and bars. In Walla Walla, he liked going to movies, playing tennis and soccer. He was a junior and stayed with Lon Olsen.

Evening With The Arts

On February 14, the Wa-Hi Art Departments put on the Evening with the Arts. Performances were put on by the Wa-Hi String Quartet, the Wa-Hi Stage Band, ENCORE! Wa-Hi's only drama club, the Performing Company, and speeches by individual students. The audience was treated to coffee and desserts provided by John's Wheatland Bakery.

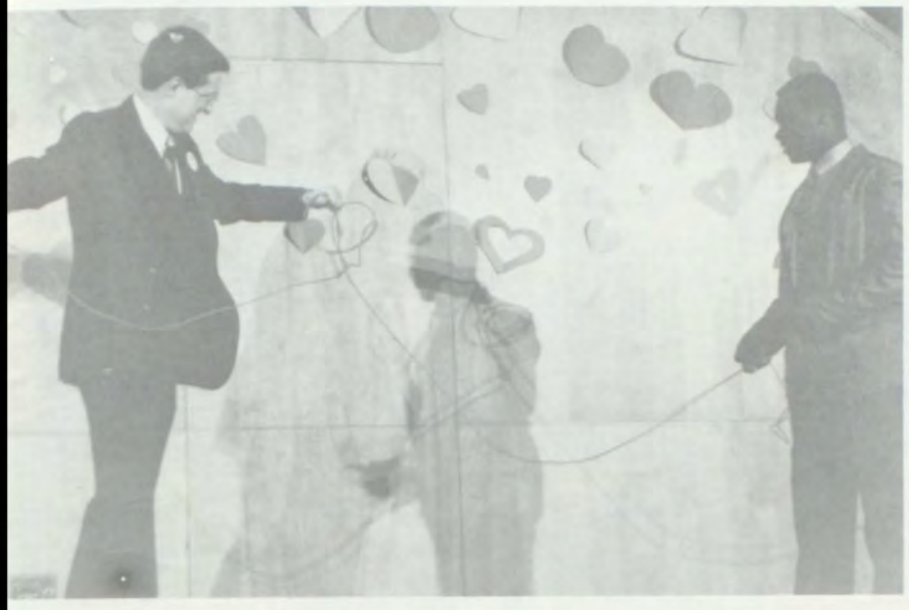

ENCORE! Members Jay Rambo, Chris Baird, Carolyn Eyestone, and Jason Lathrop discuss the recent murders.

Monica Wu and Lisa Slawson performed for the Wa-Hi String Quartet.

Rob Dennis controls the lights and sound for the evening.

Air Jam

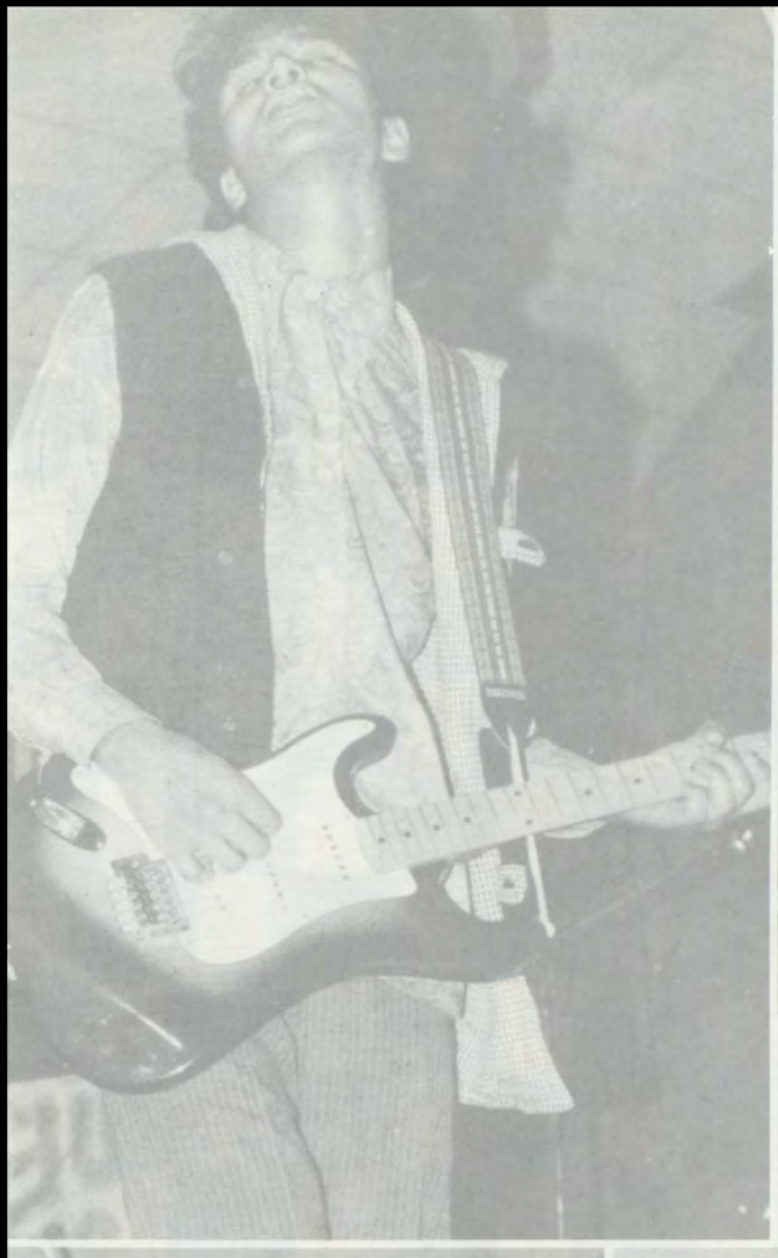

Music from eleven hot bands rocked the Commons and the night during the annual Boys' Fed Air Jam on Nov. 10th. The competing bands included: The Three Amigos, Hard Rock, Synonymous Motion, Blind Tiger, Screamin' Paisley Baccanalians, Laughing Simon's Flock, Farside, Armortron, Nighttrain, Vixen, and Erotica.

The Three Amigos, consisting of Ricky Wilson, David Bingham, and Robin Spearman, swept first place with lip-synched renditions of "Don't Be Cruel" and "I Want Her".

Screamin' Paisley Baccanalians' (above) performance of "Bad to the Bone" and "Good Lovin'" won them second place. Third place was taken by Synonymous Motion (below). The band lip-synched Souxie and the Banshees' "Peek-A-Boo" and Sheila E.'s "Koo-Koo".

The contest was judged this year by Erik Krauss, Class of '87 member Dirk Muse, and Jim McGuinn of Hot Poop. Don Hoppen was Sound Technician.

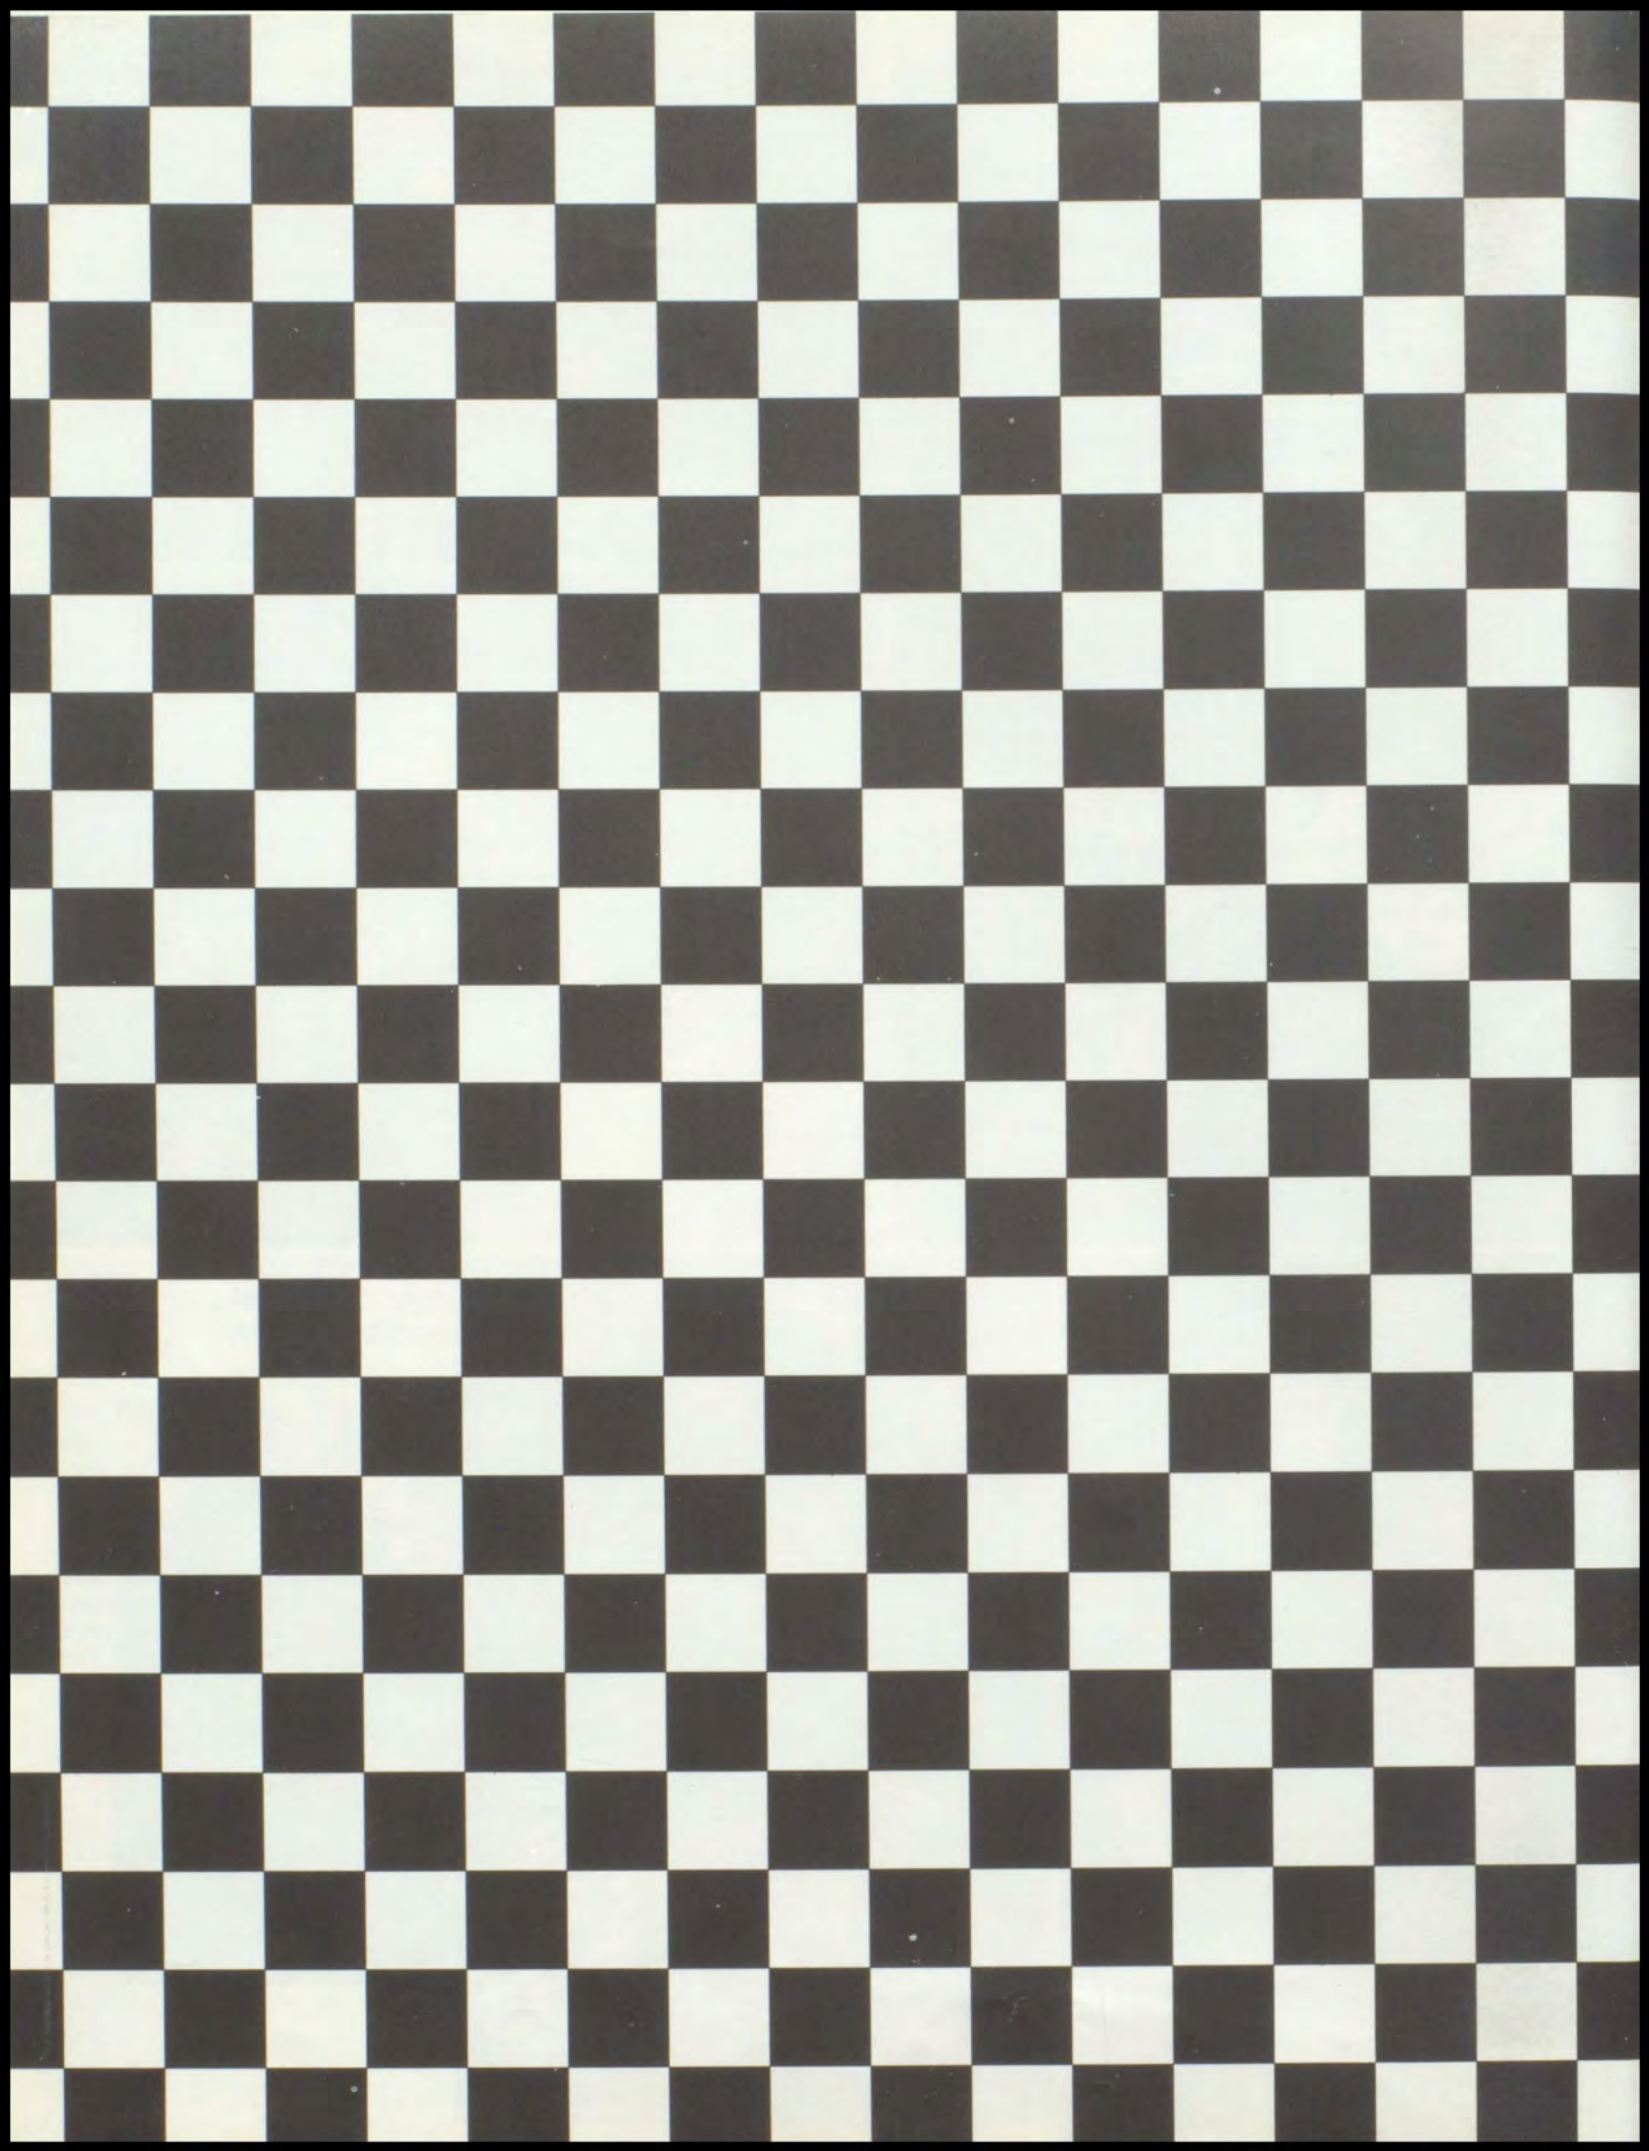

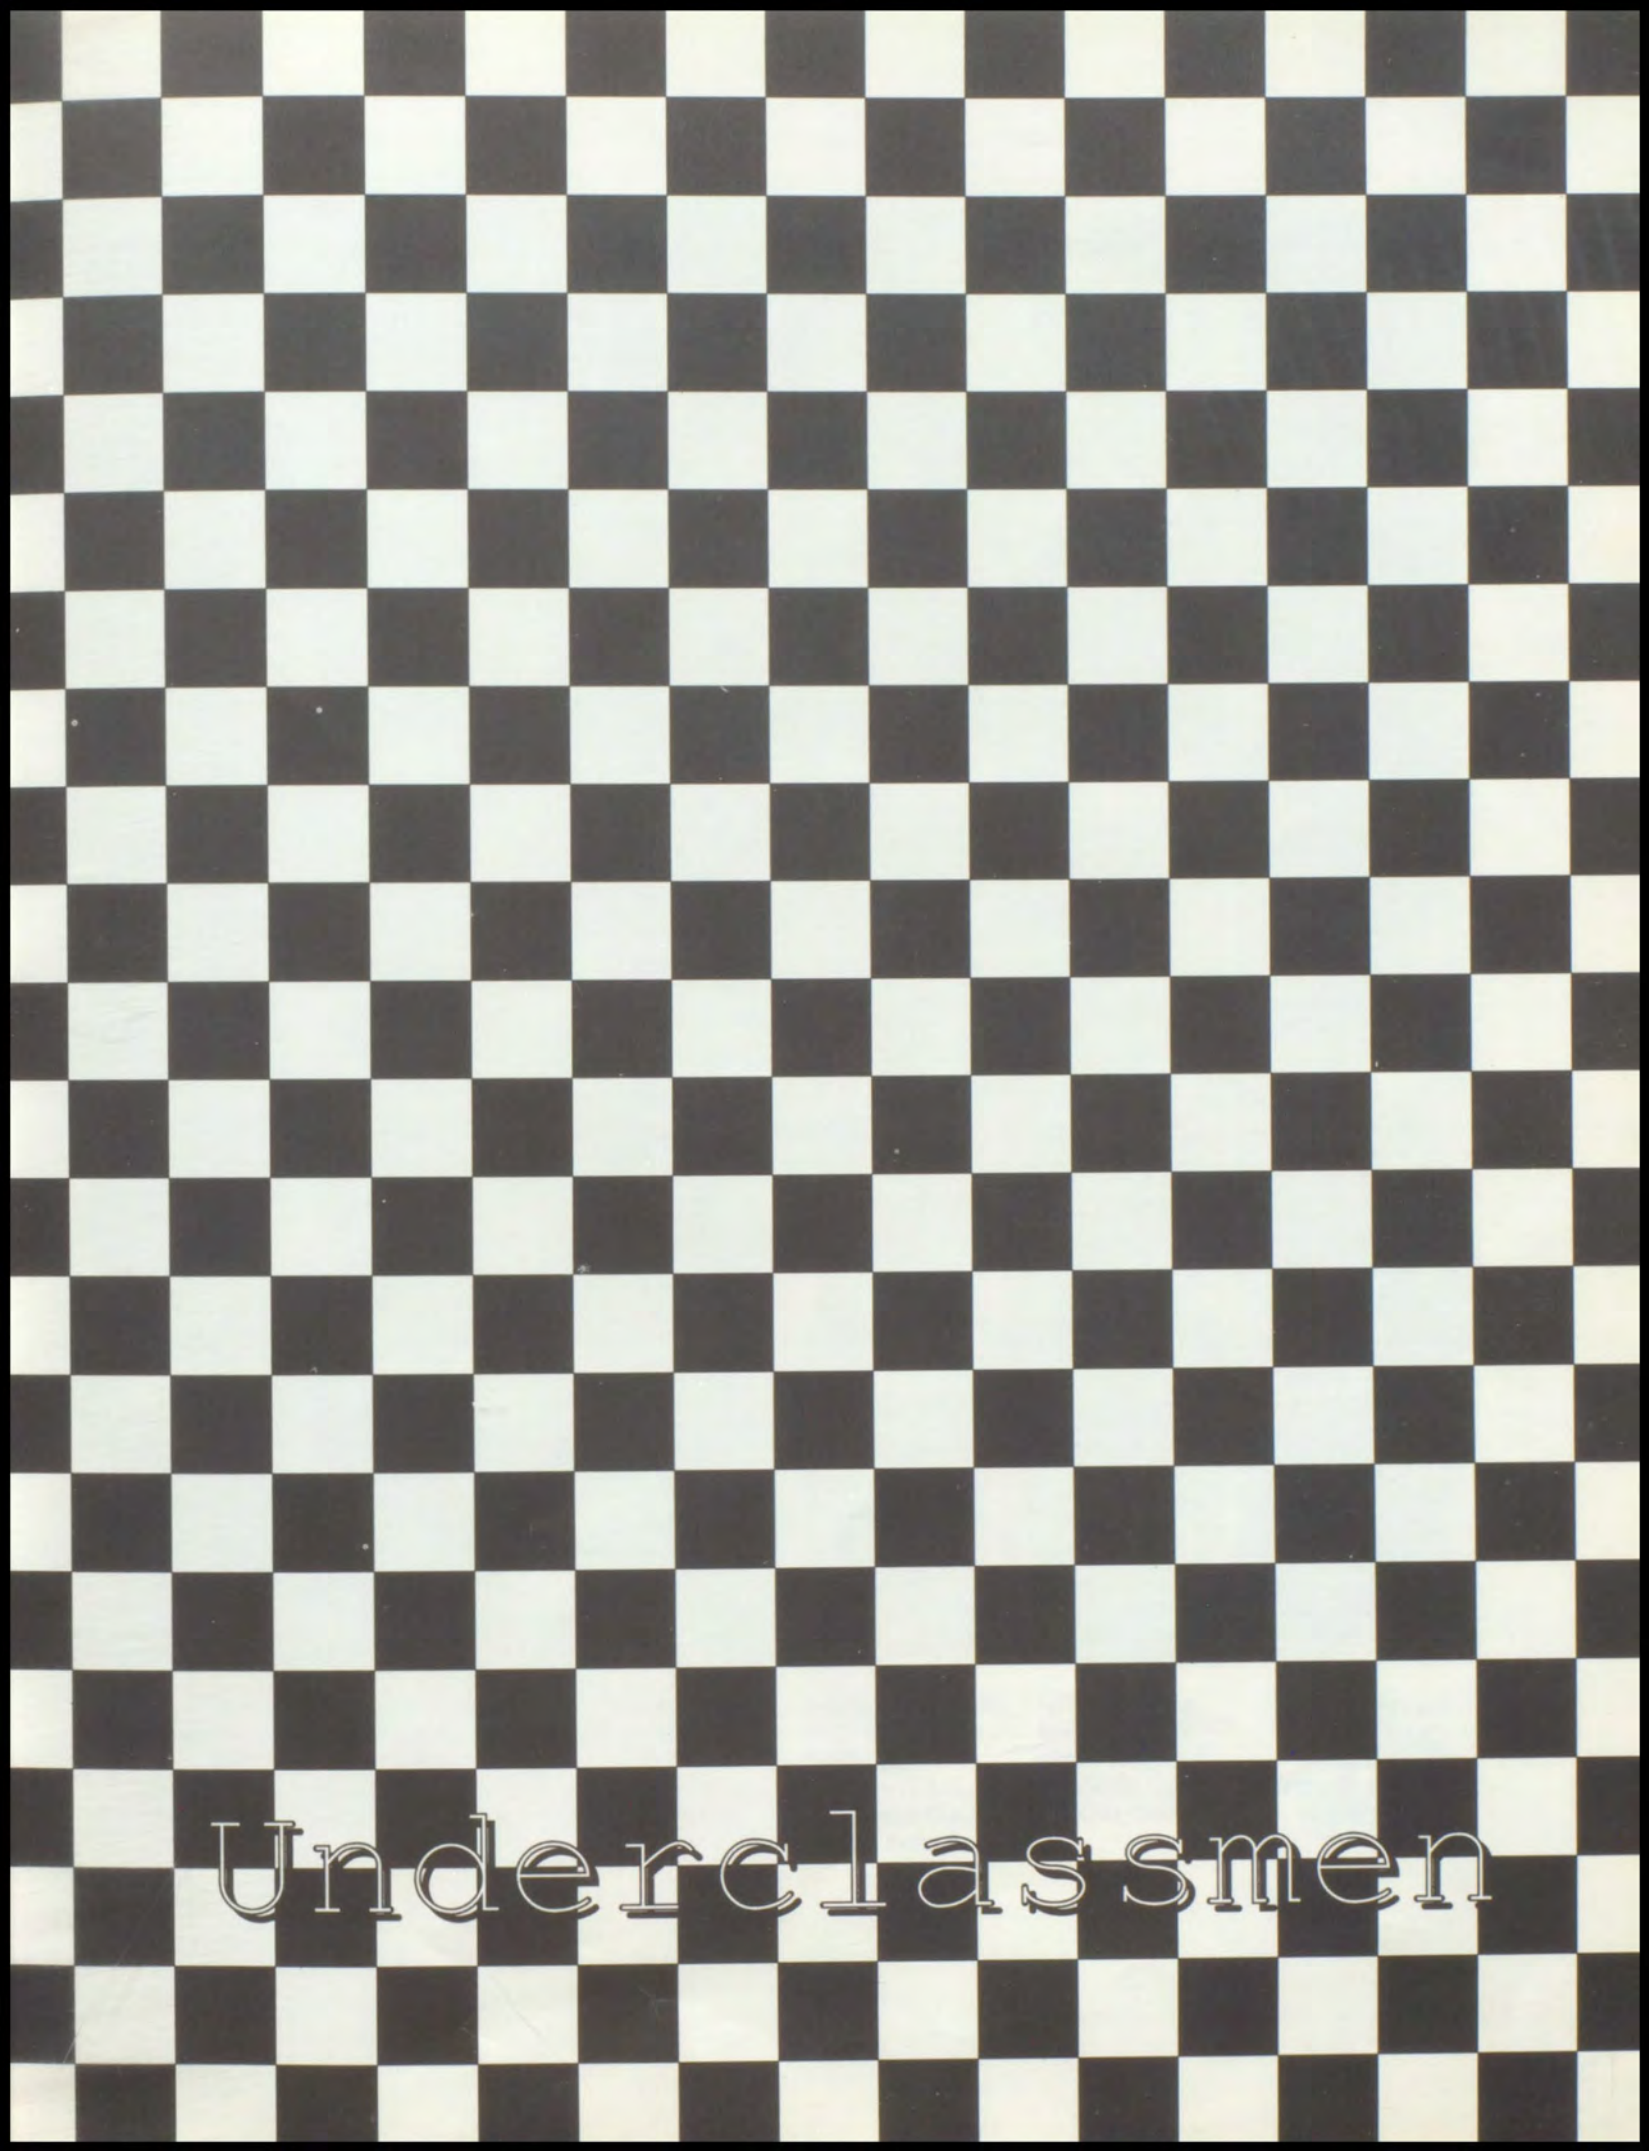

Clockwise from top: J.D. Guzman, Casey Davis, John Morrison (Laughing Simon's Flock), Jason Pribilsky (Farside), Dan Schneider (Erotica).

A Rose with all it's beauty stands in the middle of a garden, with the sun gazing upon it, just like God does on each of us. Hoping that when the sun goes away we will be protected from all the things that make us weak.

But time passes on and the hands of fate set in, bringing the cold of winter, and the peace of snow. Snow, it is cold and looks deceiving, but it is a risk we have to take, but as the snow falls faster and faster, we forget we are all protected and that we must face the elements, no matter how harsh. The Rose slowly dies, only leaving the memory of a handsome prince.

Election '88

"Every one of our children deserves a first rate school. I will increase the power of parents. I will encourage merit schools, give more kids a head start, and make it easier to save for college.

"I want a drug-free America. I challenge the young people of our country to shut down the drug dealers around the world. Fighting crime will be a high priority for the next four years. I intend to appoint judges who will crack down on criminals and we've got to continue to strengthen sentences to deter criminal acts.

"In foreign affairs I will continue our policy of peace through strength. I will move towards further cuts in the nuclear arsenals of both the U.S. and the Soviet Union., modernize and preserve our technological edge, and ban chemical and biological weapons from the face of the earth."

President
George Bush

"We are the party of the American dream.

"A dream so powerful that no distance of ground, no expanse of ocean, no barrier of language, no distinction of race or creed or color can weaken its hold on the human heart.

"I know because I'm a product of that dream. And I'm proud of it.

"And to those who say the American dream belongs to the priviledged few and not to all of us, we say that the old era is over and a new era is about to begin.

"...It's time to wake up to the new challenges that face the American family. Time to see that young families in this country are never again forced to choose between the jobs they need and the children they love; time to be sure that parents are never again told that no matter how long they work ar how hard their child tries, a college education is a right they can't afford."

Governor
Michael Dukakis

World Events

Washington celebrated its centennial in 1989 and the events got under way starting November 11th of 1988. Events were planned to continue from November to November with fun for all. The celebration had started early with the red-white-and-blue license plates seen on cars everywhere on campus. ☞

Three days before events kicked off, the elections were held. Besides the dirty battle for the presidency (p.82), tough races were run for the Gubernatorial, Senate, Representative, and many other positions.

The ideas heard most in this campaign were mud and polls. Every other day we were greeted with a new poll showing who led where and by how much and how many points error. Then the pollsters came up with opinion polls on what people thought of all the polls.

Never before had people witnessed such accusing and finger pointing in a campaign. Every day a new commercial came out showing why some candidate should not elected. Not only were candidates slinging mud at each other on the national level but even on the state and city level it was happening.

Meanwile, our own city broke ground for its new mall, located close to College Place, as well. Shopping finally was coming to Walla Walla with about 70 stores able to fit and commitments from ShopKo, J.C. Penny, Sears and others. Many people were worried about the future of downtown and kept a wary eye on the progression of things.

Sports

The Los Angeles Lakers had to play a different opponent in 1988's National Basketball Association Championship Series, but the result was the same. Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul Jabbar, and friends teamed up on the Detroit Pistons. This made the Lakers "back-to-back" champs, having beat Boston in 1987.

With the start of the new season came a new look for the N.B.A.. Two new teams were added this year with two more to join next year. Miami Heat and the Charolette Hornets were eagerly watched in their initial season.

After Washington beat Denver 42-10 in Super Bowl XXII, they both had high hopes for the 1988 season. But, like many other teams, they fell to the rash of injuries that beset the National Football League this year and especially to quarterbacks.

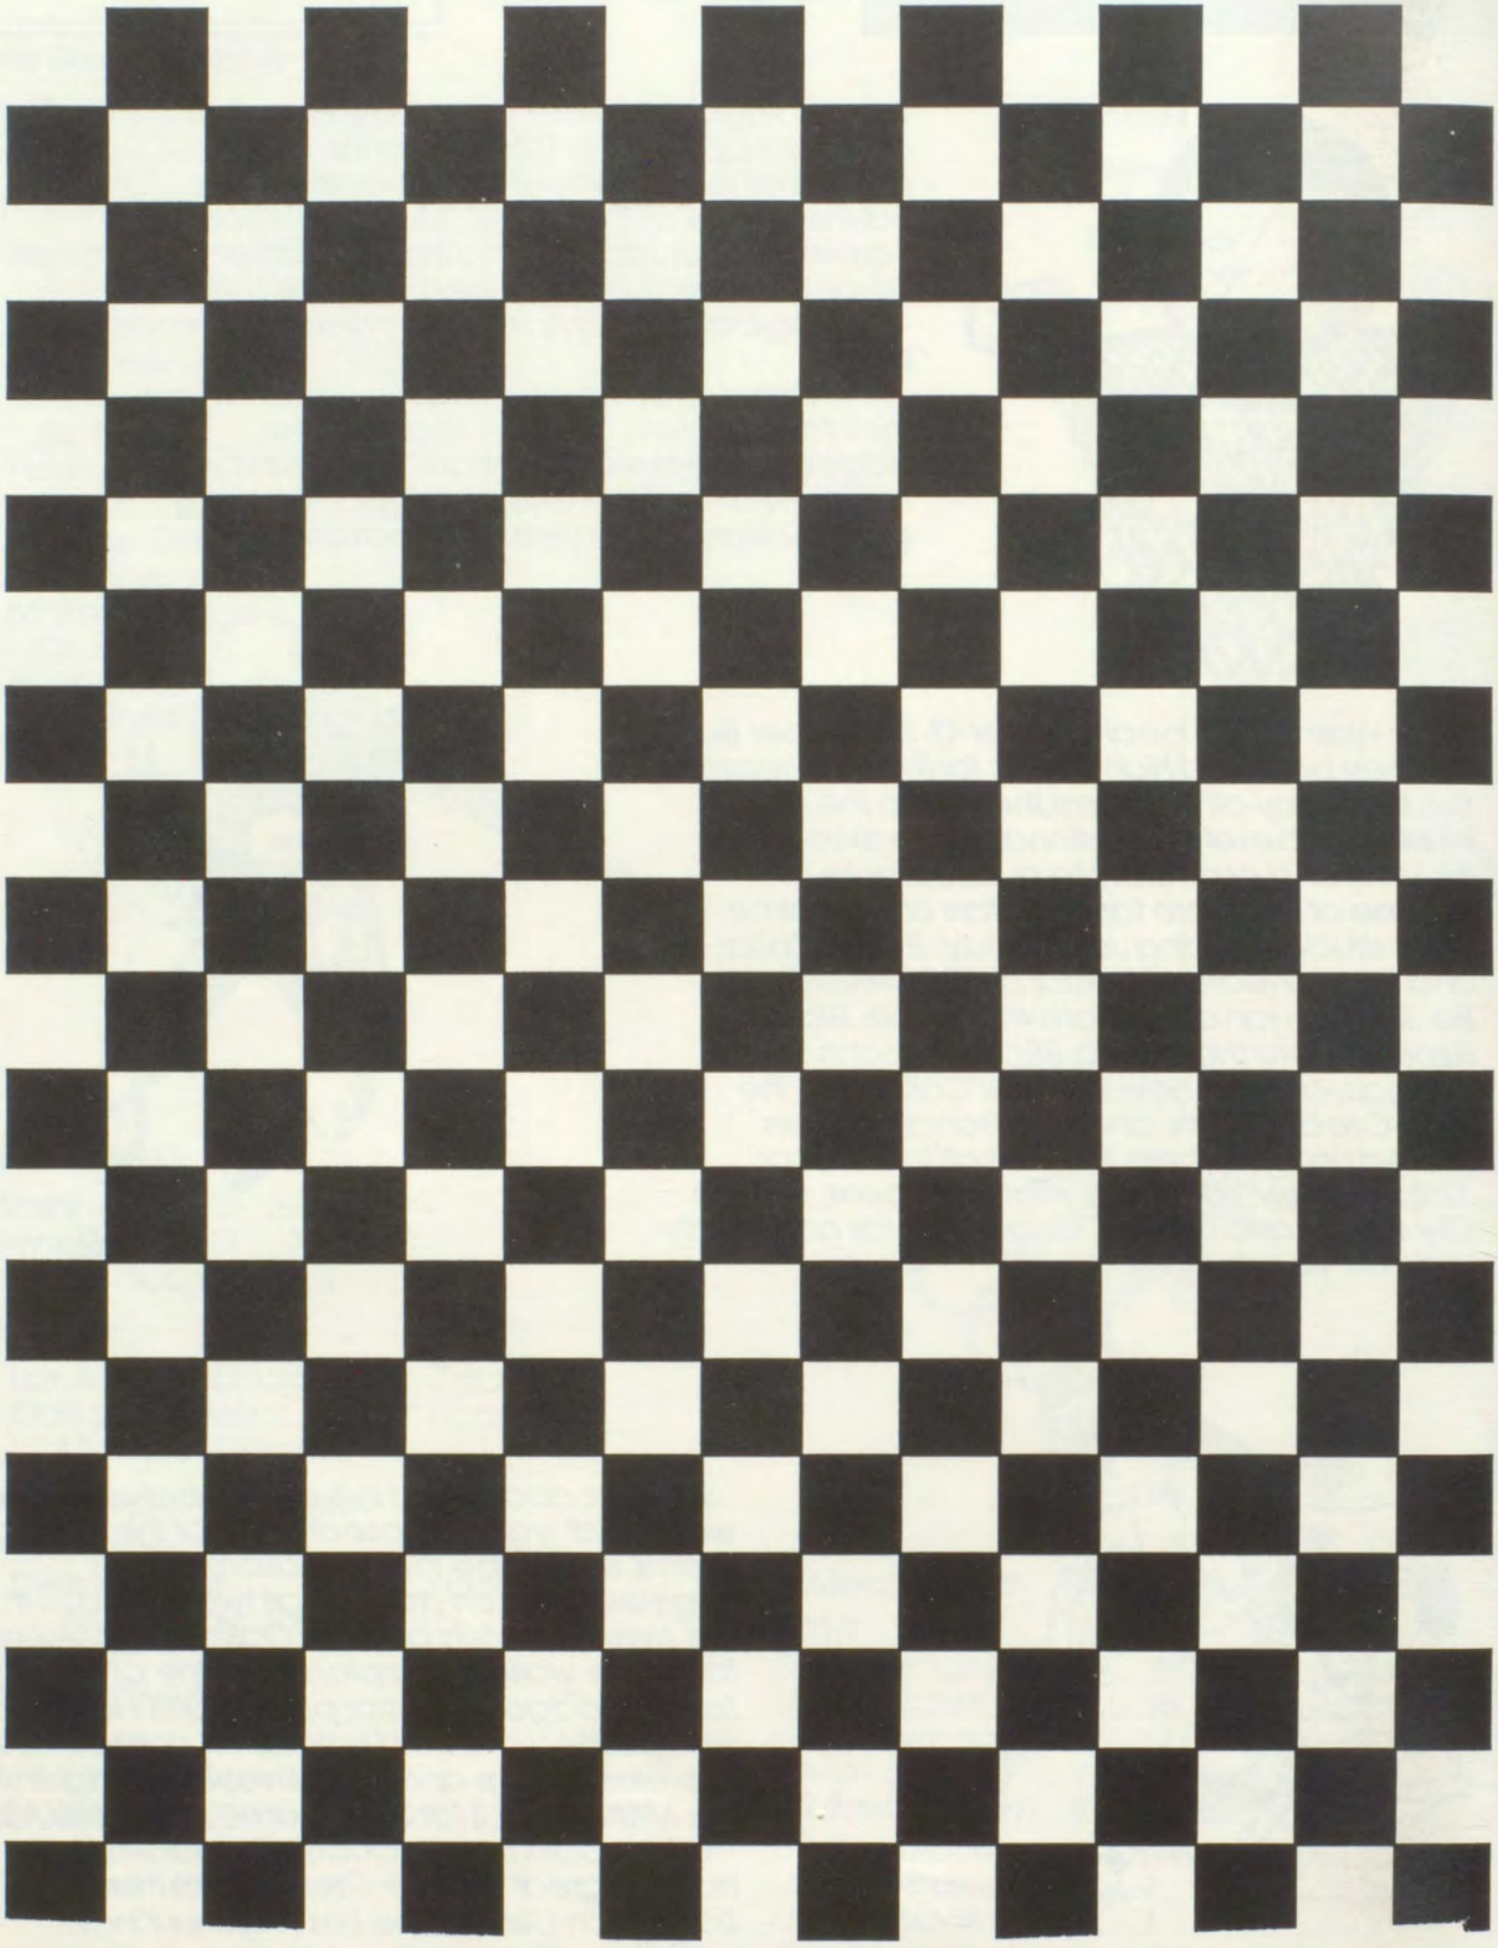

Some of the more famous stars of the game were struck, including John Elway, Bernie Kosar, and Doug Williams. As usual Eric Dickerson and Bo Jackson ran away from everyone. Big surprises were the Buffalo Bills, the Cincinnati Bengals, and the new Phoenix Cardinals. The New Orleans Saints and San Francisco 49ers picked up right where they left off last season.

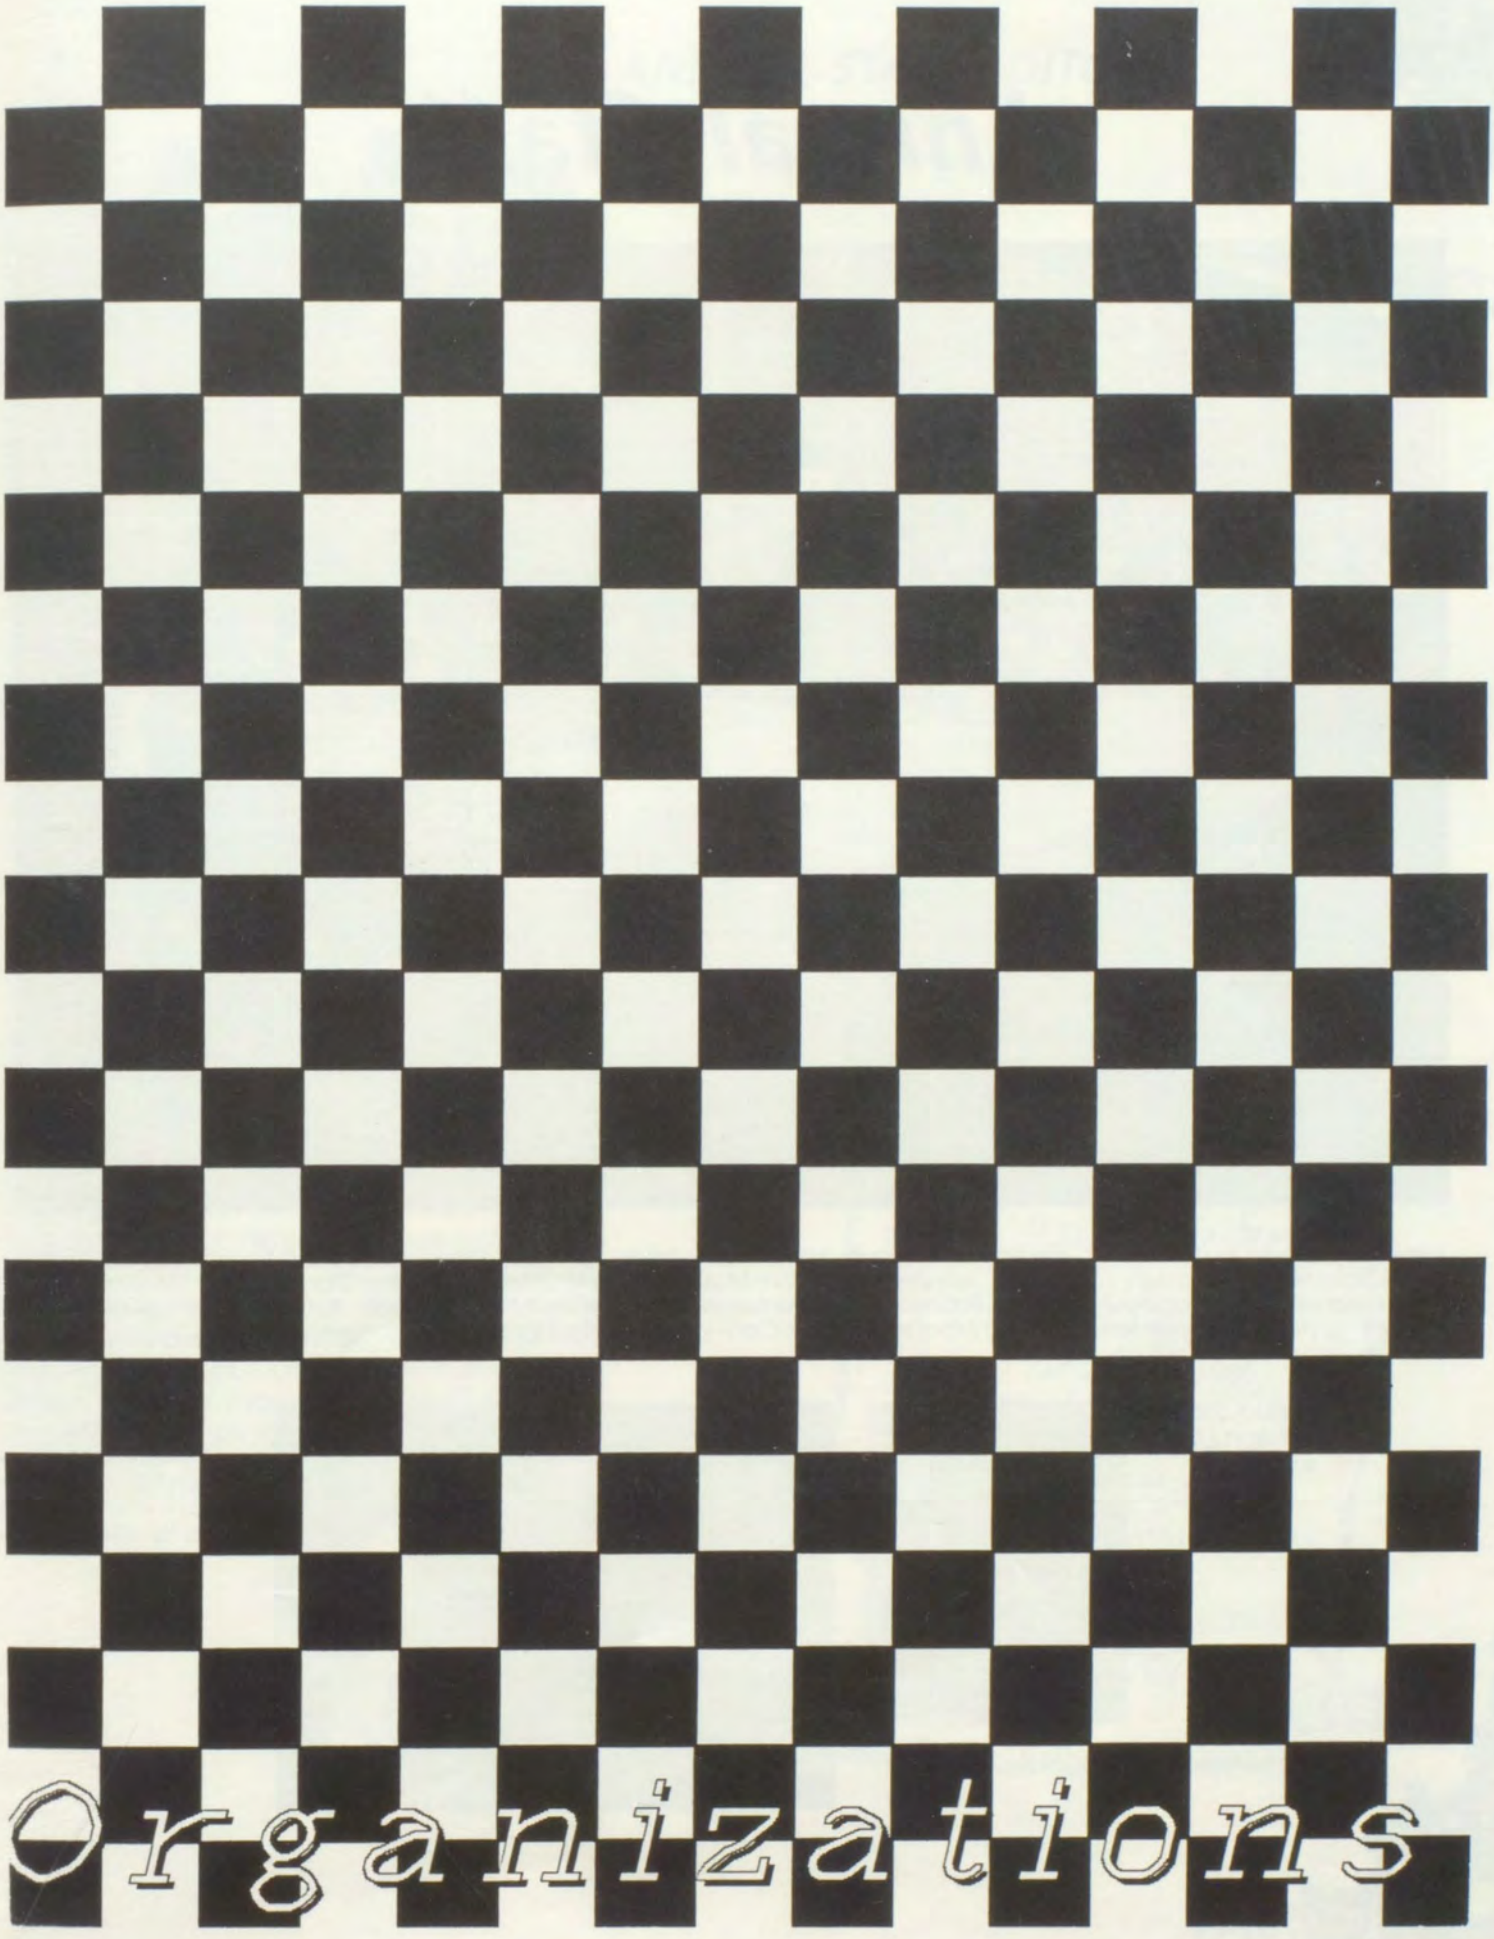

Unfortunately, so did the Atlanta Falcons, Kansas City Chiefs, and Dallas Cowboys. It was not exactly a classic year in the N.F.L.

Surprises abounded in the baseball season as well. What was supposedly one of the weaker teams ever to be in postseason, the Los Angeles Dodgers, tore apart two of the best, the New York Mets and the Oakland Atheletics, to win the world championship. One of the keys for the Dodgers was star pitcher Orel Hershiser, who pitched a record number of consecutive scoreless innings and even threw relief against the Mets. He hit 3 for 3 in a game versus the A's.

Other sports news included the trade of hockey great Wayne Gretsky from the Edmonton Oilers to the Los Angeles Kings.

Well, Wa-Hi, here it is, your 1988-1989 "Royal Blue Classic", and here is the '88-89' Royal Blue Staff (on pages 88-89, no less.) The very large staff was broken down into five groups. Five was another coincidental number as it represented the number of experienced staffers. Each experienced staff member got the chance to be an editor of a group. Jeff Miller took care of sports, Melanie White was editor of organizations, Stacy Jones handled individuals, Jay Rambo led student life and Faculty, and James Brower was the photography editor. Having a large fresh staff, and a rookie advisor, brought in a lot of new ideas, We made a few changes, by going with a company cover, we had extra money to put all the senior section in color. Plus we moved the staff into the organizations section to make room for the current events pages. We put alot of hard work into this book and we hope it becomes a classic to you, Thank You.

ASB Officers

"It's been a great year and I've really enjoyed serving you, the students of WA-HI. I'm really satisfied with the progress we've made this year and I hope that continues in the future"

-Andrew Webster
ASB Secretary

"This year was an experience I learned a lot from and one that I'll always remember. Thank you for giving me that opportunity."

-Scott Brennan
ASB Vice-President

"Even though the year was full of pressure, controversy and stress, I would do it all over again. Thank you Wa-Hi and remember to follow your dreams!"

-Matt O'Laughlin
ASBPresident

"I'm glad I had an opportunity to serve the school. It was a great learning experience for me as well as a lot of fun. If I could do it all over again, I would. Probably.

-Dave Muzzal
ASB Treasurer

NHS

National Honor Society is a national organization, established in 1921 to recognize and foster high academic achievement among high school students. Eligibility for membership also includes characteristics essential to good citizenship in a democracy. During the second semester of the Junior Year students who have demonstrated scholarship, leadership, and good character during their high school career are invited to join the Walla Walla High School Chapter of NHS. The members of NHS are an outstanding group of young people who contribute much to their school.

Girls' League

Girls' League participated in and sponsored many activities throughout the '88-'89 school year. In addition to co-sponsoring the Welcoming Frolic at the beginning of the year, Girls' League united the girls of Wa-Hi with their parents by putting together a Father/Daughter Banquet in the winter and a Mother/Daughter Banquet in the spring. Also during the spring this group sponsored a girl-ask-guy dance. Throughout the year assemblies were held to provide previews for coming events. A variety of activities were also conducted through the Girls' League homeroom representatives. These activities included a pumpkin carving contest and selling cards.

Crest

Crest is composed of senior girls with a 3.0 or higher Grade Point Average, and who were selected by the previous year's members. Crest has sponsored a needy family at Christmas, has organized and promoted a blood drive, and has assisted in activites at nursing homes. Officers for the 1988-89 school year were: Heidi Rolfe, Pres.; Meagen Anderson, Vice Pres.; Rebecca Rasmussen, Sec.; and Mollie Michael, Treas.

Boys' Fed

During the 1988-89 school year there were some real challenges in Boys'' Federation. For the first time, official titles such as president and vice-president were thrown out. Instead a five person "officers board" was put together. Officers Brad Kinzer, Dan Schneider, Erik Smith, Jason Pribilsky, and Chad Zier. Leaped into the year with high aspirations.

The 25 person cabinet put on the traditional Air Jam in high style. Unlike years past, the Air Jam was held in the commons. Other activities included numerous Boys' Federation-Girls League competition activities and a co-sponsored frolic.

"We're behind you all the way!" rings the Rally cheer. Whether it was the supportive Guardian Angel programs, Godfathers, the Sophomore picnic, or the annual Homecoming Fashion Show, Rally was there in '88-'89. Rally also took part in Senior Sneaks, poster making, and spirit raisers. Rally knows the amount of school spirit shown depends on the number of people willing to donate time and energy. People tend to support that which they help to create, so Rally is open to every Mighty Blue Devil, and wants them to be part of all activities.

The Flag Team was involved in many exciting activities this year. Performing at Washington State University Band Day and at the South East Washington Fair were highlights of the year. The team also competed at the Cougar Cup Competition in the spring.

The award-winning flags perform a minimum of 13 new routines during the year. The routines, choreographed by captains Julie Nordheim and Kendra Rogers, were recognized at the University of Idaho as being the best in camp. They also won the Unity Plaque for friendliest team. Under the leadership of Meg Ridenour, the flags continue their winning ways.

M.E.

The marketing education class consists of high school seniors who work with the public at various retailing stores throughout the community. DECA students work out of retail stores that give them experience filling out resumes, applications, and working with the public. All M.E. students are members of the Distributive Education Club of America. Students have the opportunity to participate in leadership activities and contests with other high school M.E. classes around the state. Last but not least, they operate the Devil's Den before school and during lunch.

ICE

I.C.E. prepares students to become working adults in production, manufacturing, or service industries. Through career exploration and attention to what is involved in getting and holding a job, coupled with actual part-time job experience, students gain a realistic perspective and preparation for entering an industrial occupation directly from high school. Members of I.C.E. belong to VICA club.

The ASB Cabinet consists of about twenty-four Seniors and six Juniors who were appointed last spring by the ASB officers. The cabinet began the year with a planning and goal setting meeting held in mid-August.

The first project for the cabinet was the sophomore orientation which took place a few days before school began. Over the next several weeks the cabinet spent many hours planning for Homecoming Week and the dance. Other projects taken on by the cabinet during the school year were the Spring Formal and also hosting a meeting of the Inter-High Council.

On the whole, the 88-89 school year was a good one for the ASB cabinet.

COE

The Cooperative Office Education (C.O.E.) program combines classroom learning with actual on-the-job training to help each student prepare for their chosen occupation. It is an expansion from the classroom situation to include the facilities and know-how of the business community. This course is open to seniors who have prepared themselves by obtaining entry level clerical skills in the business field.

Key Club

The Wa-Hi Key Club had a very successful year in 1988-1989. Key Club, a service club sponsored by Kiwanis businessmen in the Walla Walla community, participated in many projects to help people throughout the community. Key Club was successful due to their supervisor and Key Club Officers. The great effort by all the members, especially in the food drive, was especially noteworthy.

The French Club project for the year was to raise money for their own club sweatshirt. Lorena Mendoza designed the logo. French club officers included: Kevin Murar, President; Brooke Guisinger, Vice President; T. Maxwell, Secretary; Kathy Stites, Treasurer. French Club was also involved with the luncheon for the Wa-Hi foreign exchange students this spring.

Knowledge Bowl

Knowledge Bowl is an academically oriented, trivia question answering club that competes with regional schools. Students may join by invitation only.

In its first competition, the team easily outdistanced opponents from Columbia-Burbank and Pomeroy. "We're anticipating great things from our team," commented team member Art Taylor.

Advisor Connie Bosley leads the trivia masters in their pursuit of excellence in hunting-down even the most obscure fact.

Clockwise: David Muzall, Mr. Dennis, Julie Albro, Jeff Burres, Leo Mayberry, Jeramy Barker, Dallas Meeker, Jason Lathrop, Jon Goranson, Christian Fletcher, Chris Maland, and Craig Wilmoore.

The Tri-Sigma Club gives interested students the opportunity to work with applications of Math and Science outside the classroom. The Greek sigmas stand for the survival of society. A name which labels it a service as well as an interest club.

Chamber Singers

The girls started out their year with their first performance in late October and never had time to look back after that point. They lived up to their class goal of "being available to perform whenever asked" by doing approximately 25 performances throughout the year. Most of these were for various club meetings and services around town. We participated in the fall and Holiday concerts along with the choir during the Fall semester. On Valentine's day we were asked to take part in the 2nd annual "Evening of the Arts."

Treble Chorus

The girls in the Chorus sang in the Fall Concert to start off the year. During the winter, they sang at the Eastgate Mall and at Cordiner Hall for the Holiday Concert. In February they participated in the All-City Vocal Festival. Their performance year was brought to a close with their singing in the Spring Concert.

Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) is a youth leadership program at Walla Walla High School that is designed to assist automotive trade and industry students to prepare for vocational technical careers in the automobile industry. It is a leadership, citizenship, and character program that compliments Wa-Hi's vocational skill training program. It helps students to prepare themselves for the labor market. VICA emphasizes respect for the dignity of work, high standards in trade ethics, workmanship, scholarship, and safety. It also promotes understanding of the free enterprise system.

Mixed Choir

The 1988-1989 Mixed Choir kicked-off its Performance year with the Fall Concert on the first of November. December 22nd found us at Cordiner Hall for the annual "Holiday Concert." In January the choir was asked to take part in the "Journey Towards Hope," concert at Cordiner Hall. In February came the winter concert and in March we participated in the All-City Vocal Festival. May 1st found us at the Big Nine contest in Pasco. We brought our year to a conclusion with our annual three day tour trip and the Spring Concert in May.

Hours of dedicated and hard work helped spark the journal staff to new heights. The journal continued to publish biweekly under the direction of new advisor Erik Krauss. The staff, chosen from the outstanding students in journalism class, continued the tradition of excellence in reporting the news of the Wa-Hi community. Christian Fletcher, Andrea Parker, Jason Pribilsky and Cindy Speer were the editors for the year. "This year's editors are an exceptionally talented group," commented Mr. Krauss. "They certainly exhibited tremendous leadership." Excitement at press night and the First Annual Journal Golf Tournament were among the year's highlights.

The Future Farmers of America is a good organization to be a part of. There are about 500,000 members in the United States and Puerto Rico.

FFA is not just learning about agriculture. It's learning and doing skills of agriculture, such as welding, tractor driving, mechanics, and livestock handling and sales, just to name a few of the thousands of agricultural related jobs. Most county fairs hold FFA contests in which these skills are judged.

The FFA also sponsored a food basket for Thanksgiving. The food basket committee sold cupcakes and other baked goods during homeroom in order to raise money. The basket, which was delivered to a family in the Walla Walla area, was composed of a turkey and other Thanksgiving dishes. "The community helps our program a lot, this is our way of returning the favor," said Advisor Mike Martin.

Encore is a performing arts club consisting of members who participate in all facets of dramatics production. The club met on Thursdays in advisor Carol Franklin's room.

Activities for this year included the student written play "Victoria's Christmas" that traveled to local grade schools, a segment of a mystery play for "An Evening with the Arts", and the spring production of "The mouse That Roared".

SAFTYE/Jr. Officers

SAFTYE was initiated in 1973 in response to a national and statewide concern for the reduction of highway fatalities and injuries among young drivers. Through Traffic Safety Projects planned and carried out by young drivers, a greater awareness and understanding of traffic safety problems has been acquired.

All of these activities fall within the framework of the statewide program called SAFTYE 9Stop Auto Fatalities Through Youth Efforts). It's purpose is to encourage students to carry out school and community traffic safety projects involving their peers as well as Elementary and Junior High Schools students. Their participation in these events enables them to have a positive influence upon younger groups, to fel good about their efforts, and to stop the number one killer of teenagers . . . traffic fatalities.

To allow for a statewide exchange of ideas, SAFTYE has sponsored an annual conference since 1973. The Washington Traffic Safety Commission funded the SAFTYE project through various agencies and organizations until 1984 when the youth program coordinator position was created for the commission. The coordinator is the liason between the clubs and the commession and also could be considered as the state advisor.

JROTC

Military Ball

The 1988 Annual Formal Military ball was held on December 3, 1988 at the Wa-Hi commons. Approximately 150 JROTC cadets and their guests attended.

The evening began with a receiving line, organized and run by Cadet Commander Cherie Gleason, and her staff, and the ROTC Instructors.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Royal Court for 1988-89 which included:

QUEEN: Cadet Captain Misty Bak

KING: Cadet Captain Bill Banks

PRINCESS: Cadet LTC Cherie Gleason

LADY: Cadet Captain Jennifer Peyton

LORD: Cadet Captain James Brower

The theme of the dance was "Never Surrender", and the colors were red, silver, and black.

Academic Decathalon

The Wa-Hi Academic Decathlon Team did an outstanding job in state competition. The Blue-Devil academicians finished twelfth in the State. The decathalon consists of tests involving the areas of math, science, economics, social science, language, and fine arts. Participants must also present a prepared speech and an impromptu speech, written an essay, and participate in an interview. Individuals on the team won special honors. Art Taylor captured a silver medal for his second place finish in the science test area. Christian Fletcher took the bronze medal in the speech category. Fletcher spoke on the importance of physical health in today's world. "I think we did pretty well," said medalist Taylor. "Maybe we can take state next year."

Youth In Government

Once again the Wa-Hi chapter of the YMCA Youth and Government was alive and active this year. Throughout the Fall and Winter of 1988, these politically vibrant members prepared for their mock prelegislature meeting in January. Each member prepared and sponsored a bill having to do with a number of topics. In late April, the group traveled to Olympia, the state capitol, to attend the Washington State YMCA Mock Legislature. There, they were the opportunity to debate and House chambers of the Capitol Building. Others took part in the judiciary program there, while some worked for the Youth and Government newspaper, "Capitol Capers." The group advisor, Mr. Jim Tomlin, and club members agree that the experience was well worth the work it required beforehand.

Wa-Hi's Varsity Football Team competed well. The gridders exceeded the prognosticator's expectations — one local media outlet predicted a 2-7 season — by compiling a 4-5 record, 4-4 in league. The team began the season with a difficult away game in Richland. The Blue Devils played the eventual Big-9 Champions tough in an opening 12-8 loss. The team bounced back the following week with a tremendous victory against Wenatchee. David Bingham scored three touchdowns to lead the way. The Blue Devils also logged spectacular wins against Moses Lake and Eisenhower. Ricky Wilson's two touchdown catches sparked the Walla Walla effort. perhaps the highlight of the season was a rousing Homecoming night effort against the Davis Pirates. The 19-11 victory made Homecoming Week something to remember. Narrow losses to Pasco and Kamiakin were disappointing, but, on the whole, 1988 was a great year for the varsity team. "I was very happy with our season," commented Coach Mires. "We played hard the entire year." Mires is enthusiastically awaiting the upcoming season. "We were a young team, so I look for continued improvement in our program," he said. Many of the Blue Devil players received special honors. Joe Gonzales was selected Most Inspirational and Captain of team. Drew Bledsoe was selected Most Valuable Offensive Player and Tyler Gluck was chosen Most Valuable Defensive Player. Mike Moore also received kudos as Lineman of the Year. Several Wa-Hi players were also honored with positions on the All-Conference Team. Ricky Wilson and Joe Gonzales made first team while David Bingham and Drew Bledsoe were on the Second Team; Mike Moore and Aaron Wolfe were Honorable Mention. The JV and Sophomore teams were also successful. The JV team was 1-2, including a strong win against Hermiston. The Sophomores were 1-7, highlighted by a win against Hanford.

As the 1988 cross-country season drew to a close Senior Don Johnson summed his experience up by saying "It was great being a part of a successful team and I'll miss the coaches when I graduate." His statement reflected the events of the 88 cross-country season. The 88 cross-country team was a team with excellent senior leadership and a strong experienced core of returning athletes. Led by League leading star Chris Katon, the Blue Devils went undefeated in League and District action. Continuous improvement upon personal bests in every meet was the key to the great season had by all. The season was capped by a trip to the state meet in Pasco and a third place Team finish. The Blue Devil ladies also had an exceptional season with many personal bests. Their season ended with four wins and four losses, fifth in the Big 9.

Devil Girls Display Winning Attitude

After the end of the 2nd season of Wa-Hi's only girls soccer team, the girs had plenty to be proud of. Finishing the season at 4-8-4, the girls displayed plenty of enthusiasm and a winning attitude.

"I think that each player improved their individual soccer skills. Even though we had a lot of players who have never played soccer before, by the end of the season, we were considered one of the most physically tough teams in the league," commented senior co-captain, Angie Zagelow.

The Blue Devils were led by soccer master, Floyd Bunt, Jr. Assisting Bunt was newcomer, Bud Bowman, also known as the "Athletic taping king".

First year player, Melissa Shoemake stated, "This was my first year out, But I found that the coaches were exceptional in helping me understand the basic rules of the game. It was AWESOME."

The team lost a great bunch of seniors. They include Angie Zagelow, Jennifer Cottingham, Angel Mason, Emily Hanson, Melissa Shoemake, Becky Royce, Sara Dietzman, Melissa Adams, Shari Stevenson, and Laura Bunt. However, next years team will be led by junior co-captain, Jenny Bayne.

Blue Devils Capture Big Nine Title

The Blue Devils began the season with high hopes and great expectations. Early on, the team dispatched its opponents with fury and determination. The Blue Devils began the year by overwhelming a sold Hermiston team. The non-league season was an unqualified success, as Eastmont, Hanford, and Pendleton were easily sent packing. The league season began with drubbings of all who faced the Wa-Hi hoopsters. An 18 point blasting of eventual State Participant Kennewick highlighted these early league games. During the middle of the league games was a contest against a team of Australian All-Stars. The Blue Devils were gracious hosts off the court, but on the hardwood, the Blue Devils weren't so kind as they administered a 95-56 beating to the lads from down under. This impressive performance caused the Aussie coach to proclaim the Wa-Hi program as being "the best we've seen so far." The cagers rolled on with solid wins over Kamiakin, Wenatchee, and Pasco. In the game against Kamiakin, David Bingham led the team with 17 points. At this stage of the season the 9-0 Blue Devils were ranked fourth in the State. Then came a 65-76 loss to Davis in Yakima. Despite the setback, the team bounced back with solid wins over Moses Lake and Eisenhower. The team's winning streak reach five games before falling to Kamiakin and Pasco in the last three league contests. Nevertheless, the Blue Devils finished with a sparkling 16-3 league record and a Big-Nine Title.

Devil Boys Go To State

With the boys basketball team having already won the league championship and the District 5-6 title, only one obstacle lay in the way for a state berth- the ECL Regional Tournament. The Blue Devils opened the first game of the regional tournament with an explosive 94-56 win over Central Valley of Spokane. The next night, however, the boys dropped a 54-58 decision to Mead, forcing Wa-Hi to return to Spokane the next weekend for a chance to play at the AAA State Tournament in Seattle. The boys successfully beat Davis and Gonzaga Prep, giving them the number three seed at State.

Thus, started the long journey of numerous faithful Walla Walla fans to support the beloved basketball team. As the boys headed out of town, Coach Thacker led the cheer "WE'RE #1" in a send-off pep assembly.

The boys, however lost two in a row to Curtis and Puyallup, both of Seattle. Coach Jim Thacker put it well when he said, "Sure I'm disappointed, but it takes a very good team to make it as far as we did." The crowd support was unbelievable, and a major reason why the team went so far. Senior stand out, Ricky Wilson, exclaimed, "The crowd was our sixth man." Thanks guys, for an exciting season!

Aggressive, talented, impressive. These are words that describe the exciting style of play of the Blue Devil girl's basketball team. The Blue Devils showed hard work and determination during the course of the 1988-1989 season. This work paid off with an impressive position in the upper division of the Big-Nine Conference and strong showings at the District and Regional tournaments. The girls did a super job in the non-conference part of their schedule with strong showing against Central Valley and Pendleton. The Conference schedule was challenging, but the Blue Devils came through in fine fashion. After a heartbreaking loss to Richland, the team bounced back with lopsided wins over Moses Lake and Kennewick. The girls lost to Kennewick, but rebounded with a stunning win over perennial powerhouse Kamiakin. A late-season win over Davis was one of the key elements in the Blue Devils solid fourth place Big-Nine finish. Dana Rubenser had 14 points and 11 rebounds and Angie Zagelow scored 17 to spark the team. This win helped the hoopsters post a 12-8 regular season record and a 10-6 mark in league play. After advancing through District play, the Blue Devils performed well at Regionals. After an opening loss to eventual state placers from Lewis and Clark of Spokane, the Blue Devils faced Kamiakin. Dana Rubenser and Angel Mason scored in double figures, but it was Amy Wilkins' two free throws with no time remaining on the clock that sealed the team's exciting 47-45 victory. The season ended with a loss to Shadle Park, the eventual State Champions — and one of the best teams in Washington State history. Nevertheless, Coach Jim Smith was pleased with the season. "We weren't disappointed with the loss because we were playing a great team," Smith stated. Smith also had praise for his seniors. He was especially pleased with the fact that Angie Zagelow and Dana Rubenser were chosen for the Second Team All Big-Nine. Even though the teams 13 win, 12 loss season was excellent, it appears that there are great times on the horizon for the Blue Devil teams of the future. The Junior Varsity team was first in the Big Nine with an outstanding mark of 14 wins and 2 losses. It looks like the tradition of Classic Blue Devil basketball will continue.

Not a bad year. Not perfect, the wrestling team wasn't undefeated in duals; they didn't win any tournament championships. Still; not a bad year. (Yet, we continued to grow.)

Seniors, you can feel fulfilled. With no returning winning records or post season tournament experience, you can feel proud of your accomplishments. With two (almost three) qualifying for regional, you almost made it to state. Two were within one match. Each ended his career with a memorable and triumphant effort. Our seniors can leave with pride. You have been good for Blue Devil Wrestling. Time will show that it has been good for you. Your commitment, efforts, and enthusiasm will enable you to grow even more after you leave WaHi. Remember us. You're left lots for us to remember.

How about the rest of the team? Not a bad year. Two state placers to return next year. They've secured a place in WaHi wrestling lore. Time to lay back and enjoy — right? WRONG!! It's been well established for the past two years that WaHi was "growing" the team of the future. With tournament tested strength in the junior class, but untested quality and great depth in the sophomore class the future looks bright. With the emergence of some exciting freshman talent late in the year that future looks even brighter.

Better stop looking at what was and start doing what's gonna be. Every team in the Big Nine feels the same way. We have no laurels to rest on. We have no reason to feel fat and satisfied. 1989-90 will be a wrestling season that can see the emergence of a new wrestling power in the Big Nine. We must remain hungry to see that the power is WaHi. We must continue to grow. The future can belong to the Blue Devils if we remember to grab a little more of it each day.
Still, not a bad year!

This year, 1988-89, the Cheer Squad for Walla Walla High School has taken on a "new look"!! In place of four separate squads, we now have one. This squad consists of 12 cheerleaders which represent all of the sports played at the High School. At football games, the squad cheers as one composite group. However, at volleyball, cross-country, and soccer games, the squad breaks into smaller groups which better fit the needs of that particular sport. During the winter season, the cheerleaders rotate in smaller squads between boys basketball, girls basketball and wrestling. The rotation changes on a two week basis. When the teams reach play-off games, the squad enlarges according to the needs at the time. In addition to being a yell squad, the cheerleaders also represent Wa-Hi as public relations liaisons. They visited elementary schools with the football team for various assemblies. They have also presented a self-esteem program entitled "Warm Fuzzies" to several elementary schools where they presented an animated story to the students which led to discussion and personal sharing. The police department asked the squad to develop a special cheer for their D.A.R.E. program which was given at the Mall and also videoed and aired on Channel 3. Early in the fall, a cheer clinic was held for k-6 grade students. One hundred and five aspiring cheerleaders' attended and, later that evening, took part in the halftime show at the football game. The Cheer Squad is proud to be part of the Blue Devil tradition. They appreciate the support of the student body and community at the athletic events and will continue to give of their best to be a positive addition to the Wa-Hi athletic program.

A Classic Year

As the sun slowly sets on another Wa-Hi year, as the shadows get long and dark, we are caught reflecting on the year gone by. And we realize now as we will in the future, that it truly was a classic year.
